RENUMBERING

—OF—

Broad and Canal Streets.

"Within a few days, Broad and Canal streets have been renumbered, and as this was done after our general directory had been printed, the numbers on these streets, given in this book, are the old ones. It seems a little unfortunate that this renumbering should have been made just before the issuing of the new Directory, but that it was much needed and has been thoroughly done there can be no doubt. We have, however, published separately, and shall give to our patrons, the new and old numbers on these streets so arranged as to be easily applied to the information given in the Directory."

From the Preface of the Providence Directory.

The following new and old numbers were furnished by Oliver E. Greene, Supt. of Street Numbering. We also give a Directory of Broad and Canal Streets, showing the new numbers at the intersections of the streets running from or across them. These books are issued solely for the benefit of patrons of the Providence Directory, among whom they are gratuitously distributed.
